

Policies on policing reform and related issues

Policing Reform Policies

Campaign Zero: 8 can't wait: <https://8cantwait.org/>

Eight policies that can reduce police violence by 72%. Find out which ones your city has enacted (for major cities) and contact your mayor. Or use these to take action locally.

The research to back this up can be found here: <https://www.joincampaignzero.org/research>

FCNL: federal legislative priorities

Check here to identify current FCNL priorities in relation to police reform: <https://www.fcnl.org/issues/justice-reform>

Defunding the Police

- A Quaker call to defund the police, Lucy Duncan, AFSC
<https://afsc.org/news/quaker-call-defund-police>
Recently I have heard several Quakers say they prefer softer language like “demilitarize the police” to “defund the police.” While the call to demilitarize is certainly important, I feel the language in the current demand is a portal to deeper change—and I hope Quakers will widely support it. Here’s why.
- Defund the Police: What does it mean, why does it matter and what could it look like here? <https://wisconsinexaminer.com/2020/06/09/defund-the-police-what-does-it-mean/>
- No More Money for the Police, New York Times, Op-Ed, May 30, 2020
(If you don't have a New York Times subscription, open the PDF below)